

Spanish 310: Special Topics in Literature

Spring 2008

Prof: Fernando Guerrero
M F 11 am -12:15 pm (Buck 11)

This course will focus on Peninsular and Latino American contemporary (post-boom) urban narrative, including novels and short stories. We will read representative works by authors such as: Eduardo Mendoza, Javier Marías, Alberto Fuguet, José Ángel Mañas, Belén Gopegui, etc. The class will explore from an interdisciplinary approach and from the perspective of the new urban narrative, gender troubles, new class struggles, race issues, local slangs, confusion between high and popular art, violence, etc.
